

From: Ed Lorenzen
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/28/02 8:54am
Subject: "antitrust"

I use many Microsoft programs on my computer, and also many from other manufacturers. I resent this attempt by unsuccessful competitors to interfere with my selection of software. If their products are any good they would not resort to the under-handed tactics that they are using here.

Please drop this unfair suit. I do not believe that the Department of Justice, or any court, is competent to determine how I will use my computer, and I resent this effort to control my personal property and actions.

Microsoft has a fundamental right to its property, and the government's job is to protect this right, not take it away. Control of any business by the government is obscene, and has been repeatedly shown to be a failure, not in the public interest.

Brar E Lorenzen
Prescott Valley, AZ

CC: activism@moraldefense.com@inetgw